CAMERON GINS READY FOR BIG COTTON CROP

BIG PLANTS MAKE READY FOR SEASON'S GINNING OF FLEECY STAPLE

Cameron cotton gins are ready for the crop of 1927 and in this issue of The Herald announcements are made from each of the three big plants here.

The R. L. Batte gins here including the Batte No. 2 gin and the American Round Bale Gin, each have been placed in the best possible condition for the season's ginnings and await the farmers.

The Boedeker, Batte and Schiller gin located in the vicinity of the compress is also ready with all possible care taken to give the farmers the best in service for their cotton ginning. Mr. Boedeker has left nothing undone to assure the farmers the best possible turn out and prompt service.

The Weems Gin is ready for the farmer. All this year Mr. Weems has been making preparations for the crop and his gin is one of the largest and best equipped in this section of the state. This gin like other gins of the city stands ready with the best possible in service for the farmers.

Milam County's cotton crop this year bids fair to yield an average of about 50,000 bales or more. Last year there was above an average production with about 70,000 bales of cotton. Indications are that the 1927 crop will be larger than 50,000 but if this figure is reached conditions will be much improved in this section of the state.

Those who have visited other sections of the state see that no cotton crops are made in any other place except in central and portions of east Texas.

Milam Mutual Pays $1,000 Death Claim To W. W. Rankin

L. C. Estelle, secretary of the Milam Mutual Aid Association, reports the payment of a death claim of $1,000 to W. W. Rankin of Caldwell on the death of his brother, T. C. Rankin.

The policy in the company was paid in full and Mr. Estelle on Wednesday received the canceled policy after delivering a cashier's check for the amount.

The Milam Mutual Aid Association thousand dollar policy company was purchased recently from M. L. Harvey by Mr. Estelle. The membership in this company has been increased to full capacity from a decreased figure of about 600 since Mr. Estelle took over the company.

Mr. Estelle has a $2500 policy on the market now and reports splendid progress in the organization of the new class.

Milam County Gets First Bale Cotton

Thorndale is the first Milam county city to get a bale of 1927 cotton. The bale weighing over 600 pounds was ginned there on Monday.

Word of this bale reached Cameron Wednesday. It is believed other bales have been ginned there by this date.

Cameron expects to get its first bale of the new crop cotton this week or early next week.

The cotton yield in Milam County this year promises to be good with an average crop. Prices are expected to be higher than first anticipated and prosperity may reign again in the country.

Thorndale, Tex., July 2.—Thorndale's first bale, 20 days earlier than last year, was brought in yesterday by John Lehman, farmer, who sold it at 20 cents a pound and, with prizes, and seed money got $204.89.

ALFORD TO OPPOSE TEMPLE SHOPS FOR BUCKHOLTS

The local shop team played Buckholts here Wednesday at the Surgeon park at 4:30. Rabbit Darrough, formerly with the Texas Association has joined the shop team and served mound duty. The batteries for Buckholts were Alford and Rosenberg.

The Waco News-Tribune cup race ends August 1 and the shop team has a standing of 19 games played, 14 won and 5 lost, with a percentage of .737.

Seeing A Bit of Texas With the Editor

This is written at the end of the trail. After 2,000 miles spent in the desert country in the vast spaces of the west and on mountain ranges far above the level of the sea where chill nights offer relief from the blazing sun of day time, we arrived home Tuesday afternoon from San Antonio.

The return trip took us over the Old Spanish Trail, going south east from Van Horn the beautiful little mountain city in a cup of Davis mountain peaks 121 miles from El Paso. From Van Horn was traversed a portion of the southern part of Culberson county, then across Jeff Davis and Presidio counties to Alpine and Marfa 5000 feet above the level of the sea. The night found us under the stars in the chill winds of a strong norther sweeping across the peaks to our camp in Alpine. The day spent on this leg of our journey was the most pleasant of the trip as the cooling winds of the mountains made driving a real pleasure. Rain fell over a wide section of the mountain ranges west of Alpine. Next day we drove over to Fort Davis 25 miles north of Alpine. This is one of the most beautiful sections of the west and the drive to Fort Davis takes you up the canyon and over mountain passes to the ruined fort where in the early days of Indian warfare the government maintained an army post there.

Progressive citizens of Alpine and Jeff Davis county are completing a wonderful golf course in this high country and now devotees of the great national game can try their skill in the great plain surrounding the fort where once the savage in war paint looked with hatred to the barracks and stone houses that sheltered the American troops. The old ruins of this fort are interesting. For the most part of the houses are built of stone but some of the barrack buildings are of straw brick, an invention of the Indian and Mexican days of predominance in the west. Cattle now inhabit most of these buildings, going inside when the blizzards come in the winter. Many old relics are to be found at the fort, especially around the old blacksmithing shops used in the maintenance of the wagon trains and the cavalry troops.

Souvenir hunters have plundered these ruins, have marked up the walls and carried away odd pieces of wood work formerly used in profusion to make the quarters of the officers comfortable and inviting. Ruined book shelves are to be seen in these houses and there is every evidence that the officers lived in great comfort while serving in this outpost of civilization.

Continuing the journey at noon we reached Sanderson at night fall. The previous day we passed through Valentine where Mrs. White spent several years as a child with her parents who lived in the cattle country. At Sanderson the first rainfall of the journey reached us. At 10:30 p. m. rain began to fall and continued until early morning. Next day we headed for Del Rio but on reaching the Lozier canyon we were halted for several hours with a large number of other tourists for the waters to recede. To be water bound in a desert country where six inches of rain falls in a year is quite singular but the rain the previous night falling over the watershed in Terrell and Valverde counties had made the roads impassable in the walls of the drain to the Rio Grande. After several hours in the blazing sun and without water we made it over the canyon and on to Langtry a small city in the bend of the river above Del Rio. From this point on we found our way slowly over great passes and rocky roads leading on to the border city. No signs of crop vegetation are to be seen from this point on until one reaches the flat lands about Del Rio. It was in this desolate country that we found our first ranger company. These are the bad lands where smugglers bring liquor across from Mexico and deliver to rum runners who find the Texas ranger more than a match for his cunning.

A never to be forgotten experience awaited us as we entered the Pecos country and the canyon whose river winds swiftly along the base of great

STATE TAX RATE IS CUT 6 CENTS LOWER

LOWEST SINCE TOM CAMPBELL AND PEOPLE WILL APPRECIATE DECREASE

Dallas, July 20.—Drastic cut in the state ad valorem tax rate to 52 cents, the lowest since the administration of Governor Tom Campbell, for the two years beginning August 31, was announced here today by Governor Dan Moody.

This is a reduction of 6 cents in the rate of the past two years.

Governor Moody said, "there will be a surplus of $1,000,000 in the state treasury on September 1, this year. The state ad valorem tax rate for this year will not exceed 26 per cent and it is possible it will be less. The combined rate for this year and next will be about 52 cents. The rate during the past two years was 58 cents.

"This 26 cent rate for this year will cover appropriations made by the 40th legislature for this year.

He explained it will apply on taxes which are due October 1, 1927.

The governor announced that for the first time in the history of Texas, an apportionment of $15 per capita for the common schools of the state will prevail.

A special session of the legislature will be called this fall but the governor is undecided when penitentiary relocation court reform, highway legislation, civil service and local matters will be submitted.

Governor Moody evaded discussion of his possible candidacy for the vice presidency or the United States senatorship.

The chief executive will speak tonight in behalf of the constitutional amendments to be voted August 1 before the Dallas Bar association's banquet. Thursday he will speak at Waco.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hutcherson and Mrs. Jones of Paris were recent guests in the home of Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Hutcherson. Last Wednesday Mr. Hutcherson accompanied them to South Texas on a business trip.

cliffs with sheer rock walls a hundred feet high shutting out the sun. In the upper reaches of the Rio Grande from Del Rio hunters are making a livelihood catching beaver. One could imagine abundant game in the Pecos country and this stream should be a paradise to fishermen and but for the fact that our tackle box was far away in the cotton country we would have desired nothing better than a try at the finny tribe. Before reaching the Pecos one sees at a distance the great Pecos railway bridge, said to be the highest bridge in the world and in use by a railway line. A few miles further and we crossed Devils River, one of the beauty spots of Texas and the annual camp ground of many Central Texas anglers. The climb out of these canyons is thrilling and not at all easy for the motor.

At Del Rio we spent two days resting from the strenuous drive of three days down through the mountain ranges from El Paso. Del Rio, like El Paso, has its neighboring city across the border. This city is Auga Cuna, a small city with its allotment of saloons and gambling halls. Del Rio is a city of about 13,000 people and profits largely by irrigation and by tourist trade.

From Del Rio we passed up through Kenney, Uvalde and Medina counties to San Antonio, our old home. There we spent Sunday and Monday, reaching home Tuesday afternoon. All the west has been suffering from drouth with little prospects for crops, in fact it is our opinion that the black prairie country where the drouth was severe in 1925 will be the only section we visited that will yield anything like normal production.

My advice to Cameron residents who want a vacation trip with well appointed pleasures, scenic grandeur, desert and mountain country, no better tour awaits you in all the great State of Texas than the route over which we traveled for eighteen days. We are thankful for the consideration of The Herald force that made this vacation possible by their fine co-operation and these writings we trust have been read and appreciated by our friends.

CAN HE WIN?

JACK DEMPSEY

Here we see the "Manassa Mauler" on the road in training. The former champion is the favorite with Cameron fans to win from Jack Sharkey tonight in Madison Square garden. They believe the man of Toledo can win and if he does win from Sharkey can regain his crown from Gene Tunney, who is not a popular idol with the people. The big fight begins at 8 o'clock Cameron time. Announcements by radio will begin at 7:30 with the preliminaries. Dempsey says he will win or quit the ring forever. Sharkey, however, is not without his admirers in Cameron and a number want him to win from the former champ. Tune in at 7:30 for the big show.

LYONS WILL OPEN DRY GOOD STORE IN CITY

CAMERON TO HAVE ANOTHER BUSINESS FIRM IN YOE BUILDING

Mr. Lyons from Coupland, Williamson county, has leased the Yoe building formerly occupied by the Triggs Dry Goods Company and will soon open a dry goods store.

According to information received by The Herald it is thought Mr. Lyons will begin business in Cameron about August first. He is an experienced dry goods merchant and will bring an enterprising merchandising store to Cameron.

Mr. Lyons is a believer in advertising and expects to fill his place in a big way as a business man and citizen of Cameron. The citizens here welcome him to the friendly city.

YOUR GOVERNMENT WHAT THE CITY COUNCIL IS DOING

The city tax rate has been placed at the maximum again with a levy of $1.50 for all purposes according to an ordinance enacted at the meeting here on Tuesday. The tax of 5 cents levied for the support of the band was not eliminated from the budget. It had been hoped by some that this item be eliminated from the rate and there is little doubt but that it could have been done without injury to the progress of the government. The total city rate will be $2.25 as last year, a levy of 75 cents having been made for the schools. The city rate of $1.50 is the maximum under the law of this state. The city cannot levy a rate in excess of $1.50. It is pointed out the city will be able to eliminate a few debts for which long time paper was given several years back with the surplus to accrue from the economical operation of the government this year and the people may look for a substantial decrease next year or will be able to proceed with greater public improvements like paving and other needed things.

The total valuation of property in the city has been reduced about $100,000 according to the report of the equalization board composed of F. C. Fahrendorf, Hubert Hefley and Roy Baskin, submitted and accepted by the council at the meeting last week. The total valuation this year will be about $4,400,000. The lowered valuation will yield about $2,500 less money that the roll of last year and for this reason no reduction could be made in the tax rate.

The First National Bank of Cameron has been selected by the council as the depository for the city funds. The bank submitted a bid of 3.60 for city funds but the figure was lower than the other bank. Bond for the First National Bank was approved by the council in session Thursday morning.

Dr. G. E. Sutton reports good progress in the sanitary work. A complete inventory has been made of the city and all details are being worked out, he says. J. W. Guffey has been retained by the city to assist in the sanitary program, according to minutes of the last meeting of the council. The people of the city are requested to co-operate to the fullest extent with the sanitary program.

First Bale of Year Ginned In Granger

Granger, Texas, July 19.—The first bale of cotton for the season, and probably the first for Williamson county, was brought to town today by Chas. Merka. This is the earliest in years. A premium and in addition $50.00 in gold, will be given the grower by business men. Root rot is spreading in some sections and due to recent showers, the plant is deteriorating. An early gin run is anticipated.

FLOGGED BY MASKED BAND IN CEMETERY, MAN SWEARS

Toccoa, Ga., July 15.—The jury trying Elmer Clarke for assault with intent to murder Mrs. Ansley Bowers was discharged late Friday because it was hopelessly deadlocked. The jury had considered the case since Wednesday night. Clarke was one of a party alleged to have flogged the woman. Toccoa, Ga., July 15.—Bert Singleton, a farmer, told a jury here Friday that ten robed white men took him to a graveyard on the night of March 10 and flogged him because they said he had sold whiskey to a minor.

This he denied, then he said they whipped him again because they said he had not been "coming to the meeting" and his boy had not been attending Sunday School.

Three more robed figures joined the ten original ones in the graveyard, he testified. He said he recognized five of the band, W. G. Acree, J. F. Anderson, Mose Jordan, Bart Lowry and Hendricks Wiley, who are on trial for assault with intent to murder for the alleged flogging of Singleton.

Acree has already been convicted of assault and battery for participating in the flogging of Mrs. Ansley Bowers, another resident of this community.

200 TRUSTEES ATTEND MEETING HERE

CELEBRATION FEATURING ADDRESSES AND EATS

About two hundred trustees and their wives attended the annual meeting of the school trustees of Milam County in the City Park Wednesday July 20th. Plans had been carefully worked out by Hon. W. A. Morrison, chairman of the County Board, Supt. T. A. Fisher of Cameron and Mrs. Kathryn K. Robbins, County Superintendent of Milam county. The Lions' Club, Commercial Club and citizens of Cameron united in making the day a most successful one.

The meeting was opened by Hon. W. A. Morrison who stressed the importance of education of the agricultural classes in particular. He brought before his hearers the purposes and plans of the Junior College and at the conclusion of his remarks, those present indorsed the movement for a Junior College for Milam County and expressed a desire that the committee working in the interest of this college should continue in their efforts and that the trustees of this county would use their influence with our local representative, flatorial representative and Senator, in order that this county may have a Junior College in case the people decide that it is to the educational interest of the county to have one.

Mr. Morrison was followed by Supt. T. A. Fisher whose broad views of education are big enough to take in all of Milam county and he had no trouble making the rural trustees feel that he is deeply interested not only in an elementary education for the rural boy or girl, but a high school education as well. Mrs. Kathryn K. Robbins, County Superintendent, spoke for a few minutes and welcomed all present to a feast of barbecued chicken, salad, pickles, pie, ice tea, iced watermelon. There was an abundance for every one and the occasion was indeed a happy one.

State Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs arrived from Austin at the noon hour and he addressed the trustees for two and one half hours in the afternoon. He explained fully the recent provision of the distribution of the state aid funds and showed why changes in this distribution had become necessary in recent years.

Mr. Marrs made clear to the audience the plans whereby tuition for High School students transferring from the rural schools to an affiliated high school will be taken care of by the State. The call session of the Legislature appropriated $100,000 for this purpose but in the opinion of the speaker, this amount will be insufficient to supply the demands that will be made. All trustees were urged to communicate with the County Superintendent in order that their schools may be properly classified by the County Board as tuition will not be allowed for schools if the district teaches the grade which the student desires to take.

The two-days institute before the opening of the majority of the schools of the county was discussed. Attendance for these two days is obligatory and pay is provided. Three additional meetings may be planned to be held at some time during the school year and it will be left to the discretion of the County Board whether teachers will be paid for these three additional meetings.

The out of town visitors for the occasion were State Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs of Austin; D. J. McDonald, County Supt. of Brazos County and Prof. Durham of Bryan; Supt. Conn and wife of Rockdale; Supt. Henry Ross and O. D. Graham of Thorndale.

Those who assisted in serving were: Mesdames W. G. Gillis, Geo. T. Moore, E. A. Wallace, H. N. Tate, Joe Benson, E. P. Werner and Rush Thomas. Misses Mary Randolph, Ruby and Lois Robbins, Cora Barmore and Nancy Ree Slocumb and Mr. Robert Love. They were ably assisted by members of the Lions' Club and Commercial Club and they are indeed to be congratulated upon the manner in which everything was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Balhorn and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Balhorn returned Sunday from Moulton, where they attended the bedside of their mother, whose condition remains unimproved.

"I began taking Black-Draught about fifteen years ago. I would have gas on my stomach that just pressed and seemed to shorten my breath, and I would have all kinds of feeling. My head would ache and I was in a very bad fix. "I had tried remedies that didn't seem to do me any good. I saw Black-Draught advertised and sent for it. S. B. Ford, Jr., Would Fly In Dallas Plane

Seth B. Ford Jr., of Dallas, formerly of Rockdale, has applied for a place in the official plane of Dallas when, piloted by Captain William P. Erwin, that ship will enter the long distance flights planned by business men of Dallas to advertise that city and Texas. Ford is a licensed radio officer.

Captain Erwin, better known as "Lone Star Bill," an outstanding Ace, will pilot the Dallas machine in a series of notable long distance flights. The great ambition of the Dallas men behind the project is to have the Dallas airplane the first to cross the Pacific Ocean. Ford, who would fly with the Ace, says, "The Dallas plane should be equipped with a radio and the presence of a competent radio operator would add greatly to the safety of the ship and its pilot."

After graduating from high school in Rockdale several years ago, Ford has found success in the radio field. He is an associate member of the Institute of Radio Engineers and has invented several radio devices. He was assistant engineer on the famous Sheejacks yacht of A. Y. Gowen of Cleveland on its trip around the world and also served the Sheejacks as radio officer.

He has navigated the Pacific several times and has a working knowledge of conditions Captain Erwin will encounter in his flights.

In making application for a place on the Dallas ship and pointing out the need of a radio, Ford said, "Commander Byrd and his companions probably never would have reached France had not their plane been equipped with radio with which they kept in communication with ships and stations below."

"Lone Star Bill" Erwin, who will fly the official Dallas ship in the name of Dallas is one of the great heroes of the World War. He wears the distinguished Service Cross, with two oak leaves; the French Croix de Guerre and the Aero Club's Medal of Valor. He is officially credited with eleven enemy planes, which he brought down by skillful flying and the courageous use of the machine gun on the fields of France. Captain Erwin was himself shot down six times by the Germans, but each time miraculously escaped without serious injury. Erwin has spent more than 4,000 hours in the air and in all that time, with the exception of the six times he was brought down by the German, has never crashed.

The official airplane of Dallas is now in process of construction at the plant of the Swallow Airplane Company at Wichita, Kan. It will be delivered in Dallas on or about Aug. 1, and shortly after that time will "hop off" in its first challenge of the air. The plane will be similar to the one that Lindbergh used, but will have a greater wing area and a cruising range several hundred miles greater than did the "Spirit of St. Louis."

As soon as the Dallas plane is delivered the sponsors and the Dallas people as a whole plan to play the role of hosts to all of Texas and the Southwest at a monstrous christening ceremony at Love Field, Dallas. A few days later the plane will leave Dallas on a nonstop test flight to San Francisco, and it is expected that fully 50,000 people will be in Dallas on that day to see the famous war ace take off in the first of a series of ventures, the success of any one of which will undoubtedly attract to himself, Dallas and the State of Texas the eyes of the entire civilized world.—Rockdale Reporter.

NEGRO BOY MEETS DEATHS BY UNUSUAL MANNER

Justice Z. T. Gore was called to the farm of M. M. Camp, near San Gabriel last Sunday morning to conduct an inquest over the body of a negro boy, L. C. McBride, about ten years of age who was found dead about 9 o'clock Sunday morning hanging by his head from a window in the home of his mother.

It seems that the mother and other members of the family had gone for a few moments before to visit friends living on the W. T. Johnson farm and the unfortunate boy evidently did not go with his mother or else returned home and attempted to enter the home by raising the window sash and crawling through the window, and it is presumed that he raised the window an attempted to go through when it fell and caught him by the neck. He was hanging from the ground unable to escape the trap and his neck was either broken or else he strangled to death. It was a gruesome sight to look upon, Mr. Gore says.—Thorndale Champion.

Statistics covering a five-year period of a dental dispensary in the public schools of one American city show that diphtheria was reduced from 36.6 per cent to 18.7 per cent; measles from 20 per cent to 4.1 per cent; and scarlet fever from 14.1 per cent to .5 per cent among the school children.

TO ONE MAN THE WAR IS NOT OVER, THOUGH TEN YEARS HAVE GONE BY

The war is not over though ten years have passed.

The combat in all its hideousness lives in the mind of Albert Hillard, 32.

But soon he will be sent back from the battlefield of Life. Soon death will hand him his discharge, and he will go Home. His story is woefully told—just another of those by-products of war. But it is a story worth telling:

Albert Hillard fought the war in France for 23 months and four days. No medals were awarded him. He went in a buck private and came out the same.

He went in with the calm clear mind of a youth.

He came back with a mind shot through with terror of war. He went to work but collapsed. They called it shell shock.

He recovered, and later was sent to the penitentiary from Rankin on a charge of liquor law violation.

The walls were worse than the world.

The whiz and whine of battle, the nerve wrecking strain of killing came back—in his mind. He became worse.

Prison physicians worked over him unsuccessfully.

So Friday—just 30 days before his term was over—Governor Moody paroled him.

The American Legion, through W. J. Johnson, brought Hillard here, so that he might go from Houston to a San Antonio hospital.

To him lights were battlefield flares. Noise of the trains was the noise of combat.

Now he was quiet. Now he was in the throes of the fight.

He has no chance to live, physicians said.

He has gone to the hospital for his last discharge.

And when that is granted by Death another story of war will end.—Houston Press.

FORMER CITIZEN DIES AT MART BURIED AT CONOLEY

The body of Chas. Williams, former citizen of Thorndale and for a time a prosperous groceryman and later served as deputy sheriff and constable of this precinct for several years, died at Mart, Texas, where he had made his home for the past year or more after a lingering illness. At the time of his death Mr. Williams was conducting a restaurant and cold drink stand at Mart and had been in bad health for about 14 months, afflicted with symptoms of blood poisoning but the exact cause of this is not known, and medical treatment seemed to give him only temporary relief.

Funeral services were held at Mart before the body was shipped to Thorndale for burial and another short service was held at the grave in the Conoley cemetery by Rev. R. E. Roberts, pastor of the Christian Church.—Thorndale Champion.

ECHOLS-ALLEN WEDDING

A pretty home wedding was solemnized Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Echols, when their daughter, Martha was united in marriage to Guy E. (Jack) Allen of Somerville in an impressive ring ceremony by Rev. R. E. Roberts.

The bride was beautifully gowned in a blue and white georgette, three piece suit with accessories to match and carried an arm bouquet of pink radiance roses. The groom was dressed in conventional black.

The bride is a graduate of the 1927 class of Thorndale High School and has many admirable traits of character.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Allen of Rockdale.

Immediately after the ceremony delicious punch and angel food cake was served to the guests, after which the bride and groom left for Somerville, where the groom is employed by the Western Public Service Company.

The out-of-town guests were W. Wilson and daughter, Eloise of Thrall Mrs. Sanford Gore of Harrisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Allen and daughters, Sue, Doris and Polly and Clay Allen and Miss Orr of Rockdale.

Better Homes In America

Four thousand communities throughout the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands, competed in the annual Better Homes campaign, which culminated in the observance of Better Homes Week, April 24 to May 1. Announcement is made today of the award of first place to Santa Barbara, California, for the best all-round program of home improvement. This award carries with it a cash prize of $500 and is given to the community conducting a program of highest educational value. The campaign is sponsored annually by Better Homes in America, an educational organization of which Herbert Hoover is President. President Coolidge heads the Advisory Council of the organization which is composed of Cabinet Officers and presidents of national organizations which are in any way interested in the improvement of housing conditions of home life. Dr. James Ford, of Harvard University, is in charge of headquarters in Washington, D. C.

The programs are designed to show how convenient, comfortable and attractive homes can be brought within the income of the family of modest means. Hundreds of such houses, some ranging as low in cost as $1,000 were built and furnished for demonstration during Better Homes Week.

Of special educational value were houses which were planned and built by students in vocational classes throughout the country. Nearly two hundred of the demonstration houses were furnished by students in home economics classes of public schools or colleges.

A few permanent home information centers, Girl Scout home training houses and school practice houses were built as a part of this campaign; and in one community Boy Scouts built a house which will remain as a permanent demonstration of a well planned and attractively furnished small home.

In some communities old, dilapidated houses were reconditioned and made livable and attractive at small cost. Often these houses were furnished with hand made or done over furniture, thus keeping the cost to a minimum.

This is the third successive year that Santa Barbara has won first prize (in 1925 this award was shared with Atlanta, Georgia). Miss Pearl Chase, Secretary of the Community Arts Association, served as chairman of the Santa Barbara Better Homes Committee. Ten houses, varying in type and ranging from $2,500 to $11,000 were demonstrated.

Nine of these houses were furnished on carefully prepared budgets, consisting with the type and cost of the houses. A house and garden contest extending throughout the city revealed many beautiful settings and well kept premises and encouraged the improvement of others. Complete cooperation of every organization was given in carrying out this educational program.

Greenville, S. C. for the second successive year won second prize in the campaign. Two houses were demonstrated, the smaller, a four-room house which cost only $1,000, was planned and built by the Better Homes Committee and is to be used by the Girl Scouts of Greenville as a home training center. The campaign was sponsored as in former years by the Woman's Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, with Mrs. W. L. Gassaway serving as chairman of the Better Homes Committee.

Third and fourth prizes were awarded to Atlanta, Georgia and Little Rock, Arkansas, respectively. This is the fourth successive year that Atlanta has been in the prize winning class. The Better Homes Committee each year has been headed by Mrs. Newton C. Wing, as chairman. Two houses costing, $6,000 and $7,500, and furnished by students in home economics classes were used for demonstration in Atlanta. Mrs. W. M. Halcy was chairman of the Better Homes Committee of Little Rock, where, in spite of the flood, a city-wide campaign of exceptional educational value was conducted.

Because of the difference in conditions between cities and rural communities, special prizes are awarded for the latter class. Albemarle County, Virginia, where a permanent home information center has been established for the women of the county, won first place in this class. The Better Homes Committee, headed by Mrs. Murray Boocock and Mrs. Bessie Dunn Miller, the county home demonstration agent, as co-chairman, gave an excellent demonstration of reconditioning both in the home information center and in a country home near Scottsville. Old furniture was done over and special furnishings made for both of these houses.

Madison County, New York, where the campaign was sponsored by the Farm Bureau, Miss Cornelia Walker manager of the Bureau serving as chairman of the Better Homes Committee, was awarded second prize in the group of rural communities. Cooperation of every organization and participation by the citizens of the entire county made the campaign one of outstanding merit. A house, costing $7,000 and completely and attractively furnished on a budget of $1843.75 was the central feature of the campaign.

Third prize in this group was awarded to Santa Cruz County, California, where a house to meet the needs of a family of modest income was built and furnished, and twenty-three homes in the county were visited in a county wide tour during Better Homes Week. Three hundred and thirty-five persons visited these homes, at each of which some especially good feature was pointed out. Mrs. Fred McPherson, of Santa Cruz, was chairman of the Better Homes Committee and was assisted by Miss Anne McCormick, county Home Demonstration Agent. A house and garden contest was conducted throughout the county.

Fountain City, Tennessee and Many, Louisiana, shared in fourth prize in this class. In Fountain City, a house costing $3,000 and furnished for $1,450.62 was demonstrated. A contest for the best kept house lot was conducted and an essay contest also aroused keen interest in home improvement. Mrs. P. T. Walters was chairman of the Better Homes Committee.

Boy Scouts of Many, Louisiana, helped in the building of a demonstration house in that place, where Mrs. J. D. Williams served as chairman. This house, of three rooms and bath was built from Plan 3-A7 prepared by the Architects Small House Service Bureau, and is located on the Fair Grounds, where it will remain as a permanent demonstration. Its cost was only $1,028.

A special prize was awarded to Gaithersburg, Maryland, for the demonstration of a home economics cottage. An old house, which had been used as a manual training shop, was remodeled and made into an attractive small home for only $200. It was attractively and comfortably furnished under the direction of Miss Maude V. Broome, a teacher of home economics, who served as chairman of the Better Homes Committee. The house will be used during the Summer as a home information center for home makers of the community, and turned over to the school in the Fall, as a practice house. This is the first home economics cottage established in the State of Maryland.

Hundreds of other communities conducted home improvement programs of exceptional merit and the committee on awards gave special and honorable mentions to many communities.

A bed of live clams was unearthed by a steam shovel excavating in the side of a bluff twenty miles south of Eureka, California, and about the same distance inland from the Pacific Ocean. The bluff was 120 feet above sea level and 80 feet above the Eel River. Placed in water the clams exhibited unmistakable signs of life.

OBJECTIONS TO THE TAX AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED UPON MONDAY, AUGUST 1, 1927

The Proposed Constitutional Amendment Relative to Taxation, Known as Bill No. 25, is as follows:-

"That article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by inserting therein Section 1 A as follows:

The Legislature may separate the objects of taxation for State purposes from the objects of taxation for the support of the counties, districts and political sub-divisions of the State and Counties may provide for the levy of an ad valorem tax, or any other form of tax, on certain classes of taxable property, or other objects for State purposes only (including school purposes); or upon certain classes of property or other objects, for county or local purposes only (including school purposes). In no event shall the rate of such taxes exceed the sum of the limits of such taxes fixed by this Constitution for State, County and other local purposes. The Legislature may provide for the classification of objects of taxation. Taxation shall be equal and uniform," and fixing limitations upon taxation."

Form of Ballot Will Be As Follows

"For the amendment to article 8, inserting Section 1 A, providing for changing the taxation system so that the State may derive its income in whole or in part from other sources than the ad valorem tax."

"Against the amendment to article 8, inserting Section 1 A, providing for changing the taxation system so that the State may derive its income in whole or in part from other sources than ad valorem tax."

A light line has been drawn thru the above ballot indicating how you should vote in the event you are against the amendment.

Objections to the Tax Amendment To Be Voted Upon Monday, August 1st, 1927.

The proposed tax amendment to the Texas Constitution is a drastic change in tax methods in Texas. Just to what extent the various tax paying elements will be affected cannot be guessed. The results may be serious, indeed, and no one should vote for such a drastic change without a knowledge what the result may be. The wording of the amendment is ambiguous and gives little satisfaction to one who seeks the results.

The removal of constitutional restrictions, thus removing a reasonable restraint on legislative authority in tax matters, is dangerous because this invariably encourages extravagance.

The classification of property for purposes of taxation not only causes inequalities and discriminations, but tends directly toward a prompt and substantial increase in the amount of taxes paid by tax payers of every class. The people still pay the taxes.

Each succeeding legislature would seek fresh fields for taxation. The entire round of classification would be tested out for sources of revenue. As soon as a substantial tax burden is fixed upon one class, a search would begin for a new class capable of standing further burdens. It can readily be seen that this would cause chaos and disturbance in the industrial, agricultural and business life of Texas.

"Unnecessary taxation is unjust taxation." This expression occurred in the National Democratic platform in 1884, and has reflected a cordial principle of Government ever since. The proposed amendment if adopted will open the door for unnecessary and therefore unjust taxation.

Farmers, merchants, industries—in fact, all classes of enterprises are now taxed to the full limit of the tax payers ability. If we seek new objects to tax, eventually at the expense of the users of those objects, we are certain to induce a still higher cost of living, affecting directly and indirectly every citizen of Texas, as well as future generations.

As has already been stated, if we amend the Constitution and throw wide open the door, permitting the Legislature to be the sole judge of the objects it seeks to tax, where will it end and what will the tax be? For years we have heard the promise of reduced taxes and economy in government expenditures, but rarely have taxes ever been reduced and the cost of government has mounted to staggering figures. The adoption of the amendment will mean the same government at an increased cost.

Just now we need economy in government all down the line, and it would indeed be wise for our state and municipal governments to turn their attention and efforts to a rigid policy of economy rather than to amend the Constitution seeking new objects to tax. It would be an unwise step to amend the Constitution as proposed opening the door to an unknown entanglement of taxes. In the last analysis, this constitutional amendment should be labeled, "More taxes for the tax payers to pay and more taxes for the tax eaters to eat."

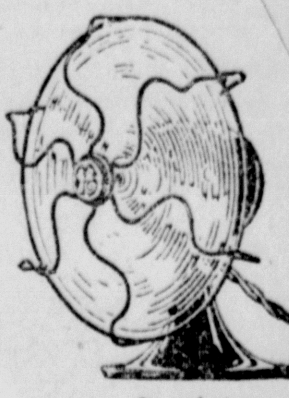

We should be careful in changing our basic law. Legislative enactment may be easily repealed, if a law proves unwise. A constitutional amendment is remedied with great difficulty.

Urge your friends and neighbors to go to the polls on Monday, August 1st, 1927 and vote against the tax amendment.

Quart of Water Cleans Kidneys

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Confederate Veteran Writer Of Poem

C. M. McLane, age 82, Confederate Veteran and resident of Laredo, wrote the following poem, which was published in the Laredo News. Mr. McLane was an attendant at the sheriff's convention and made many friends among the sheriffs from the various counties. In this poem Mr. McLane welcomes the sheriff's state convention to Laredo. Don Carlos is his pen name. He gave a copy of the poem to sheriff Blaylock and asked that it be published in a local paper. It was handed to a representative of this paper this week and we are pleased to pass it on to you:

Hail, Hail, The gang's all here!
"Right side up with care,"
To discuss, maybe "cuss,"
The state of things that are.

The 'Long Arm,' the 'Sleepless Eye,' Fresh from man-hunt, and bandit's
lair,
That never fail to 'get their man,'
However disappearing, into 'thin air.'

What price, 'the Power,' the 'Majesty of the Law,'
In one lone ranger, we see, we feel,
It is 'All There,' Sneer the bold, the bad, but 'tis to hide their fear.

Of Law's sabre tooth, that puts them in a sweaty scare.
Brave, faithful servants of State, Society,
How much our debt to thee, we can not tell,
Ask Ranger McDonald, of whom
Roosevelt said,
"With a bucket of water, he'd put out the fires of Hell."

"Well done thou good and faithful servant," shall be writ of thee,
And now, come again with 'Missus'
and kiddies next time,
We'll try our level best to make you happy,
And make joy with pleasure, rhyme.
—Don Carlos.

Garden Tea

Miss Eloise Rogers charmingly entertained Friday evening from six to seven thirty with a garden tea honoring her friend, Miss Erin Shaw of Temple.

The garden was beautiful in full bloom including altheas, zinnias, dahlias and roses. Hanging baskets, wall pockets, parrots and chimes were used to give the garden a summery appearance. Eight tables were artistically arranged in the garden with rose, blue and yellow covers and pretty baskets of zinnias tied with maline bows as the centers.

Miss Myrtle Avriett, received the guests at the front and after passing under the rainbows, they were greeted by Miss Rogers and the honoree, Miss Shaw.

A delicious plate consisting of pressed chicken on lettuce leaf, olives, salines, bread and butter sandwich, ice tea, apricot ice and angel cake was served by Misses Ethel Collins and Dorothy Blaylock who were dressed as French maids. Little Lucille McDermott dressed as a French flower girl passed corsages composed of zinnias and dusty Miller to each of the guests.

During the evening the guests were entertained by Steve Gardner and his Hokum Kings.

Jack Smith, a collie dog, of Lincoln, Nebraska, is a most consistent churchgoer. Each Sunday morning, rain or shine, he departs for church, six blocks away, getting there in time to welcome members at the door, although he refuses to go inside. When services are over, he returns to his home.

No closet will be cleaned upon which the license fee has not been paid. The license payments are due and must be paid on or before January 1st, April 1st, July 1st and October 1st, provided, however, that new closets coming under this regulation for the first time and at the organization of the system the unexpired quarter must be paid for at the proportionate rate, and at the time the right to use is acquired, or the new closet built.

Section 5. The sanitary officer and scavengers, or other officers and employees of the city of Cameron, who may be designated from time to time by the mayor or the city council shall have access to the premises on which dry closets and privies are located for

Resolutions of Respect

Whereas, it has pleased the Almighty in his Wisdom to remove our friend and fellow Klansman, J. D. Kirk, from the walks of life, and place him in the great Klunklave, beyond where all is just and right; and whereas friends have lost a true friend; the community a good citizen; the church a faithful Christian; the Klan an ardent supporter and dutiful member and the family a loving husband and kind father; therefore, be it resolved, that, we feel keenly the loss of our fellow Klansman and Brother, but bow, submissively, to the will of Him who doeth all things well; Be it further resolved, that we extend to the bereaved family, our deepest sympathy for their great loss, and express to them how much we appreciated the departed one, and how much we miss him from our deliberations. Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions, be sent to the family; a copy to the County press and a copy spread upon the minutes of the Klan.

Your Home Should Come First

By Douglas Malloch

Your home should come first, in your mind, in your heart,
The world has its pleasures, but pleasures depart,
The joys that are deeper, the joys that are true,
Are here in your home always waiting for you.
Oh, some want to wander, and some want to spend,
But here you will find it, find peace in the end.
Whatever your fortune, the best or the worse,
In planning, in spending, your home should come first.
So fill it with comfort, and fill it with cheer,
Harmonious beauty, and make it so dear
That children remember, whenever they roam,
The gentle old adage, "there's no place like home."
A chair by the fireside, a table, a light
God grant there is somewhere they wait you tonight.
For fame you may hunger, for fortune may thirst,
But working or playing, your home should come first.
A few more days and the cotton season will open.

Health conditions at the University of Texas for this summer are exceptionally good, according to Dr. LeRoy A. Wilkes, head of the University Health Service. There are very few hospital cases, said Dr. Wilkes. The number of students confined to hospitals ranges from none to three or four in each of the two hospitals attending to University students. The period of four days free hospital service allowed students during the summer session is being found ample, said Dr. Wilkes.

A second excursion to San Antonio will be made by students attending summer school at the University of Texas, according to Mrs. C. J. Moore, member of the faculty who is in charge of out of town excursions. The date for the second trip has been set for July 25. In San Antonio the students will visit many of the points of interest to tourists.

The reception will be given on the campus on the evening of July 20.

A varied program has been planned for the entire last six weeks of summer school, according to Dr. M. R. Gutsch, chairman of the faculty committee arranging the entertainment.

Among the activities will be debating clubs, journalism, dramatics and choral work. There will be numerous concerts in the campus open air theater by the University choruses, the Longhorn band and orchestra, and the Taylor and Austin municipal bands. There will also be several departmental and special lectures each week and local excursions to the many points of interest about Austin.

The University of Texas possesses what is said to be one of the largest collection of newspapers in the south. There are 12,000 bound volumes and 5,000 volumes of unbound material. Besides newspapers from practically every state in the Union, there are many foreign newspapers regularly received at the library. There are also many rare old newspapers in the collection.

A catalogue of all the newspapers on file is being compiled by E. R. Dabney, supervisor of the newspaper collections and will be published soon.

Mineral resources and formations in western Oklahoma are being investigated this summer by F. M. ### Health Notes

Safe milk supplies make better health for babies, says Dr. J. C. Anderson, state health officer, who urges municipalities in the state to adopt the Standard Milk Ordinance as a means of assuring a safe quality of milk to consumers.

"The Standard Milk Ordinance," Dr. Anderson stated, "is recommended by the United States Public Health Service, and has been adopted by a number of states, as well as by 31 Texas cities. Towns in Texas now having this ordinance are: Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Breckenridge, Brownsville, Brownwood, Bryan, Corpus Christi, Corsicana, Electra, Fort Worth, Graham, Jacksonville, Jefferson, Kerrville, Lubbock, Marlin, Marshall, Mexia, Mineral Wells, Nacogdoches, Paris, San Angelo, San Antonio, Texarkana, Tyler, Vernon, Waco, Weatherford and Wichita Falls.

Provisions of Ordinance

"Milk is the best food obtainable, and is absolutely essential to the health of children, but due to the fact that milk is the best culture medium for bacteria, and that it is easily contaminated, extreme care must be used in milk production and distribution in order that milk may not be harmful to children drinking it.

"The Standard Milk Ordinance provides for a graded milk supply, with each bottle of milk labeled as to the grade. Some other provisions are: tuberculin tested cows; sanitary barns and barn yards; safe water supplies; sterilized milk vessels; cooling of milk to 50 degrees Fahrenheit within one hour after it is milked; and health certificates for all milk handlers.

"The adoption and enforcement of the Standard Milk Ordinance by municipalities would materially reduce the infant mortality and morbidity rate in Texas."

Death Statistics For Year 1926

Statistics compiled by the bureau of vital statistics of the state department of health for the year 1926, show that of the 205 "official ways to die," that heart disease heads the list, with 4,538 deaths charged to this cause. Other leading causes of death last year in Texas are: pneumonia, 4,143; tuberculosis, 3,743; chronic nephritis, 2,125; cerebral hem. apoplexy, 2,043; cancer, 1,934; diarrhea and enteritis, 2,141; and influenza, 1,479.

The peak in the age periods at which most deaths occurred due to heart disease is shown to be well past middle life, while 20 to 25 years is the age period at which the largest number died from tuberculosis. Children under 2 years of age are shown as having more fatalities from attacks of diarrhea, enteritis and pneumonia.

More deaths from cancer of the stomach and liver are shown than face cancer of any other organs of the body. Deaths from cancer of the female genital organs are listed as 257; cancer of the breast, 117; and cancer of the skin, 15. The age period at which most deaths occurred from cancer is 60 to 65 years, while one death reported as due to cancer was of a child between the ages of 1 month and one year.

Deaths From Preventable Causes

Of the 42,336 deaths occurring in Texas last year, 15,771 were due to preventable diseases, if pneumonia and cancer is included in this category. Thus preventable diseases are charged with more than 37 per cent of the total number of deaths occurring in the state.

Some diseases which are listed as the "official mode of demise," but of which no Texas resident died are malaria fever, Asiatic cholera, plague, yellow fever, glanders, beriberi, diseases of pituitary gland and chyluria.

Milam County Boy Winner In Short Story Contest

Hugo Aigner, who resides with his parents on a farm near Ben Arnold has been declared winner of the short story writing contest held by the Missouri Pacific Lines, and will be sent to College Station July 25 to August 1st, where he will attend the annual Farmers' Short Course with all expenses paid by that railroad. His story on "The Agricultural Possibilities of Milam County" has been given high praise by H. R. Safford, Executive Vice President of the Missouri Pacific Lines, who characterized it as one of the best of more than 500 received in the contest.

George Banzhaf, County Agent, who acted as one of the judges in the contest held in Milam County, was well pleased with Aigner's story, and declared that it indicated clearly he was very conversant with agricultural development in Central Texas. "Aigner shows he knows agriculture in Milam County," Mr. Safford said in commenting on his story. "It is one of the most interesting received in our contest."

Aigner will have all expenses at the Farmers' Short Course paid by the Missouri Pacific Lines, including the cost of transportation, meals and other charges while there. He will also take advantage of special entertainment and educational features arranged for the Missouri Pacific Story writers while at College Station.

The story written by Aigner with which he won the railroad's prize trip follows:

Milam County, a rich agricultural county, located in the heart of Central Texas, is known by many as being one of the leading agricultural counties in Texas.

For two years this county went through an economic depression, starting with the drought of 1925 and winding up with the cotton price slump of the last year, which was a hard blow to this (Milam) County.

Milam County today is again on the upgrade—profiting nicely, too, thru diversification.

Farmers, merchants and all have been taught a good lesson. "Live at Home" is the slogan of the farmers. No longer are they raising only cotton, but are learning that the best and only solution for a farmer is diversification.

Just recently Milam County had a soil survey made by A. & M. College. We want to know not only what our soil will grow, but also want to study our marketing conditions. We must find out what we can grow that the rest of the country needs. We must then learn the best way to market that product.

Milam County has two distinct soils, south of Cameron, the county seat of Milam County, or roughly, south of the Little River, it is a sandy soil, while north of this line there is nothing but black land.

There are around 150 miles of designated highways in Milam County, most of these highways are gravelled, besides all that are not gravelled are well improved and within two years there are expected to be many more and better highways in this county.

The new bridge across Little River near Cameron, leading south to Houston, is pointed out as being one of the big improvements in the road situation in this county.

There are three railroads that serve Milam County—Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and International-Great Northern. This also helps to make Milam county the best agricultural county in Texas.

In the matter of terracing, Milam county has hundreds of farms already terraced and many more that need to be terraced. It would be possible, in this way to make old farms that are said to be 'worn out' to grow good crops if the land would be terraced and commercial fertilizer applied. In other words, if every farm so called "worn out" would have been terraced many years before the rich sediment washed away it would at present still produce large crops. Many fields will be ruined in the near future provided they are not terraced soon.

Just recently it was discovered that the sandy soil of Milam County was as fine for grapes as other places where grapes have flourished for years. This year there were more than 100,000 cuttings placed. Farmers have put in around 75 acres of grapes and more will later.

Since wells can be sunk mostly any place in the sandy soil and reservoirs could be built on the rivers and larger creeks, irrigation could be made possible.

If every farmer that lives on the sandy soil would establish a vineyard, an orchard, plant plenty of feedstuff such as corn and alfalfa and irrigate when needed, he could also raise cattle, sheep, hogs, chickens and keep several full blooded dairy cows. He then could make his land as valuable as any in the Rio Grande Valley.

As to the farmer that lives on the black land, if he would only plant less in cotton and more in feedstuff, keep more land for pasture and also raise cattle, hogs, keep thorough bred chickens and blooded dairy cows, he then too could prosper and be called a real farmer.

During the winter a chicken hatchery was established in Cameron. To date its hatch has been 75,000. The hatchery is planning to increase its capacity within a year or two. This now will make chicken raising easy on the farm.

Cream stations have been opened in most every town or village in Milam county. Several have been opened in Cameron and now Cameron is shipping cream every day to Houston. For this reason full blooded dairy cows should be kept on every farm. These cream checks each week are a great help to the farmers.

Thorndale, in Milam County, has begun roasting ear shipments and expects to ship two hundred car loads of green corn this year. A car of corn averages about five hundred baskets of corn. The farmers there are getting 30 cents per basket in the field as it stands, cutting and packing it themselves without cost to the farmers. These farmers are showing what can be done—a wonderful object lesson. This too, will make corn a leading project on the farm.

It would be possible to establish a regular shipping point at many places in this county, and ship green corn from there year after year.

Last and most important is to plant good seed, for without good seed it would be impossible to raise good crops. If pedigreed seed were planted on every farm, the income for the farmer would be very much more.

Now, if each and every farmer of Milam County would diversify, plant good seed, keep full blooded dairy cows, thoroughbred chickens, raise cattle and hogs, he would then soon be on the road to success.

Pink Bollworm and Thurberia Weevil Quarantines Revised

Revision of the regulations governing the movement of cotton and cotton products from certain parts of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, on account of the pink bollworm and Thurberia weevil infestations, has been announced by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The changes were necessitated by the discovery of the establishment of the pink bollworm in southeastern Arizona in the counties of Cochise, Graham and Greenlee and also the determination of its spread in New Mexico into the counties of Grant, Hidalgo and Luna, which were not known to be infested last season.

The Thurberia weevil, which attacks wild cotton in the region and has now been discovered in some cultivated plantings, is also spreading. Thus far it is confined to Arizona, but Cochise and Graham counties are added to the area formerly under regulation.

The important change in the restrictions on the interstate movement of cotton is in the addition of the requirement that cotton lint from this area must in the future be compressed as well as disinfected.

Under the Thurberia weevil quarantine no interstate movement from the infested counties of Arizona is permitted of stalks, bolls or other part of the cotton plant, gin waste, seed cotton, cottonseed or cottonseed hulls. Permits are required for the movement of cottonseed cake, cottonseed meal, cotton lint, bagging and other wrappers or containers of cotton and cotton products.

Owing to the possibility that the Thurberia weevil may be harbored by wild cotton plants, the interstate movement of these plants, known as Thurberia, from any point in Arizona, is prohibited.

The revision of the pink bollworm quarantine covers eleven counties of southwestern Texas, seven counties of southern New Mexico, and three counties of southeastern Arizona. The requirements are similar to those governing the movement of cotton from the Thurberia weevil infested areas in Arizona, except that seed cotton, cottonseed and cottonseed hulls, while prohibited movement to outside points, may, under certain conditions, be moved interstate under permit between regulated areas in the three States concerned.

The many friends of the family were made very sad by the announcement of the death of Mrs. Emilie Thaler, a native of Germany but for the greater part of her life a citizen of Texas, who died at the home of her son, Robert Thaler, near Thorndale, on Wednesday of last week. The funeral service was held late in the afternoon of Wednesday at the St. John's Lutheran church at Detmold, conducted by Rev. Fr. Walther, her pastor, in the presence of many sorrowing friends and relatives. Interment was made in the St. John's Lutheran Cemetery.

The deceased was born August 19, 1856 in Grenode on the Harz-Mountain, Germany. She was married to Oscar Thaler September 15, 1882, after which the young couple came to Texas, settled for two years at Shelby, from there they spent until 1895 near Taylor, at which time they moved to Milam County and Thorndale where she continued to make her home until her death last Wednesday. Mrs. Thaler had been troubled with heart disease for several years but she became suddenly sick last Tuesday and grew worse until early Wednesday morning when she took her departure from this vale of sorrows for her celestial abode. Her husband preceded her to the grave in 1916.

DRY TO SELECT McADOO OR BORAH, COLVIN DECLARES

Oakland, Cal., July 17.—Senator W. E. Borah and William Gibbs McAdoo stand today as likely presidential candidates of the prohibition party in the 1928 campaign, declared Dr. Leigh Colvin, national chairman of the party in an address here Saturday.

"If the democratic and republican parties fail to adhere to bone dry platforms," Dr. Colvin said, "the prohibition party will select either Mr. McAdoo or Senator Borah to be its standard bearer."

The speaker said that the present administration failed to gain the support of the prohibitionists in the coming campaign through its reduction of prohibition enforcement budgets for the sake of economy.

Dr. Benedict Is New Texas U. President

Austin, July 19.—Dr. H. Y. Benedict, senior dean of the College of Arts and Sciences was elected president of the University of Texas by the board of regents Tuesday to succeed Dr. W. M. W. Splawn.

Dr. Splawn declined the regents' offer of the place. He resigned some time ago, effective September 1. Vote for his successor was unanimous.

Dr. Benedict has been with the university since 1892 and of recent years has been professor of mathematics and astronomy. He is a member of the American Mathematical Society, American Astronomical Society, Society for Promotion of Engineering and member of several honorary fraternities.

Dr. Benedict first held the title of adjunct professor of mathematics and astronomy until 1902, then was made associate professor, becoming a full-fledged professor in 1907.

From 1909 until 1911 he was director of the extension department.

The regents said at noon they had "cleared the slate" of everything except the controversy over policies of L. Theo. Belmont, athletic director, and confirmation of coaches involved in the tangle.

Dr. Splawn was given a year's leave of absence with salary to do research work under the Laura Spellman Rockefeller fund. He will continue at the university as professor of economics with pay of $6,500 a year. He got $10,000 as president.

President Benedict was born in Louisville, Ky., November 14, 1869.

Receiving his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Texas in 1892 and his Master of Arts degree in 1893, he went to the University of Virginia from 1893-95 and from there to Harvard for the three years from 1895 to 1898, taking his Doctor of Philosophy degree from Baylor University in 1920.

In 1909 Dr. Benedict was married to Miss Ada Stone of Henderson, Texas.

Title of Dean H. Shelby, director of extension work, was enlarged to include that of professor of education. J. O. Marberry was appointed director of the extension teaching bureau.

Miss Dorothy Gebauer was appointed assistant dean of women and will come here from Kentucky to take up her duties. The office of dean of the Senior college of Arts and Sciences and of the graduate school vacated by Dean Benedict in his promotion to the presidency will be filled by the regents.

The regents formally adopted the budget of the school and accepted plans for immediate construction of a library addition which will double the present size of the library building and provide facilities for over 1,000,000 volumes. Regent E. M. Foster announced.

The regents also directed that Clark Field, historic athletic grounds be used for building purposes and that another athletic field be built east of Clark Field.

Dr. W. T. Mather was placed on a 12-month basis and his salary was increased to $5,000 with the understanding he will spend the summer months in welfare work.

MUSIC CHEAPER THAN FOOD OR CLOTHING, SURVEY SHOWS

Music is cheaper than food, clothing, house furnishings and building material.

This striking situation in the present day intensive selling battle in the industrial world was revealed by C. D. Greenleaf, president of C. G. Conn, Ltd., before a national convention of music men in Elkhart, Ind. He gave the results of a statistical comparison on the cost of band instruments with other commodities which showed that instruments are selling today at lower prices, as compared with the 1913 cost, than practically any other commodity.

"A study of the cost of musical instruments as compared with other articles shows that while band instruments are now selling at 133, in comparison with 1913, food is up to 157, house furnishings at 169, building materials at 175 and clothing at 190," said Mr. Greenleaf. "This means that when a consumer pays a dollar for musical instruments, he is paying 24 points less than when he spends the same amount for food, 36 points less than for house furnishings, 42 points less than for building materials and 57 points less than for clothing."

"The reason people are not spending more for music is not because of the price, that is clear. The income of the American people is estimated at $85,000,000,000 which they are spending for the things they have been led to think they want most. Just think of the hundreds of millions of dollars absorbed by radio, automatic refrigeration and other things scarcely heard of a few years ago. Everyone in the United States attends a movie on the average of at least once a week, figures show, and if the people of the United States were to increase their expenditure for band instruments by the amount of the price of one movie admission a year, the band instrument industry would become five times the size it is today."

Speaking of the great advancement of music in the schools, Mr. Greenleaf predicted that within the next decade, music will be as much a part of the educational equipment of the high school boy and girl as reading, writing and arithmetic. They will be able to elect courses in instruction on their chosen instrument just as they elect to study Latin or Spanish or choose between a liberal arts, a business or a technical course, he said. And they will get the same credit they do for any other subject. As a step in this direction, Mr. Greenleaf cited the recent action of the Department of Superintendence of the National Education Association, recommending that music be made part of the regular curriculum of the high schools of the country.

Attacks Family and Sets House on Fire

Belton, July 18.—After attempting to kill his son, severely beating his wife and burning his own home, John Knappek, Bohemian farmer, residing on the Alfred Swan farm near Sparks attempted to take his own life this morning by lashing both sides of his throat with a pocket knife.

Knappek threw his whole neighborhood into terror this morning when he went on his rage. After shooting at his son three times with a shotgun, whipping his wife and burning his own home, he fled. A man hunt immediately began and he was finally found in a pasture in the neighborhood. Officer Harmon came upon him and demanded that he throw up his hands. Instead he thrust his hands into his pocket, jerked out a knife and slashed his throat in two places. He is then said to have thrown his knife away and said, "No good." Constable Theo Wilkerson of Holland then rushed up to the man on a horse and roped him and he was immediately subdued.

Members of the sheriff's department here took the wounded man in custody. He was brought to this city and was placed in a sanitarium where his condition is said to be serious.

Several charges have been filed against Knappek at Holland, it was said at the sheriff's office here tonight.

The son, John Knappek, Jr., 19, said that his mother and his father had quarreled several times recently and that they began quarreling Monday morning while they were in the smokehouse fixing some tobacco. He was charged with attacking her with his fists and later with a chair. She suffered two broken ribs and there was some blood found on the chair but her injuries were not considered dangerous.

The boy said that his father came to him in the field where he was topping cane about 9:30 a. m. just after the quarrel with his mother and started trouble. "He shot at me with his shotgun and then hit me with it and said he was going to the house and burn the house and then kill himself," he said.

"What was the trouble between your father and mother?" he was asked by the reporter.

"I don't know. They were talking and he got some kind of mad. When he came to me in the field I could have got the gun from him but I was afraid I might not and he would get mad and kill me and my mother and sisters."

The two girls in the family and the mother fled from the house and the boy went up to the house and went off in the car. Just as he did so his father fired at him again with the shotgun, he said.

The house was discovered in flames about ten a. m. and burned to the ground, a total loss without any of the furnishings being saved. It was rented by Knappek from a man living in Bartlett. It was a fairly nice home, with fair improvements and well kept. Knappek disappeared and his wife and the girls went to Granger.

According to naturalists, many birds die each year of bronchial pneumonia because of too early migration.

Household Suggestions

Scalloped Ham and Celery

In a saucepan melt two tablespoons of butter; add two tablespoons of flour and stir until the mixture is smooth and bubbling throughout, then add one and one-half cups of chicken broth or light cream and stir constantly until brought to the boiling point. Add one-fourth teaspoon of salt and cook two minutes. Have ready one cup of finely chopped ham and one cup of celery in alternate layers in a buttered baking dish and pour the sauce over them. Cover the top with a generous layer of grated cheese dust with paprika, place in the oven until a delicate golden brown.

Ham Fillets

Cut a thick slice of ham into strips about one inch wide, trim neatly and let stand in cold milk for an hour.

Drain, dip in fine bread crumbs, then in beaten egg, and again in crumbs. Pan-fry in drippings and serve on a hot platter garnished with corn fritters.

Baked Squash with Bacon

Peel squash and cut in convenient sized pieces. Sprinkle with salt and cover with slices of bacon. Put in a baking dish and cover closely. Bake until the squash is tender. Just before time to serve, remove cover and let bacon become crisp.

Scalloped Onion with Bacon

Four medium sized onions, 1-2 lb. sliced bacon, flour, salt, pepper and milk.

Peel and cut onions into thin slices. Cook the bacon until brown. Butter a baking dish and place in it first a layer of bacon and then one of onion. Sprinkle with pepper, salt and flour. Repeat until the ingredients are used up. Add milk until it reaches the top layer. Bake in a moderate oven until the onions are tender and the milk pretty well absorbed.

Many Ways to Serve Ham

For the first meal it may be served hot and the remainder used to concoct all sorts of easily prepared and appetizing appealing dishes.

The delicate pink slices with their white fat crisped at the edges make an attractive border around a mound of potato salad. Garnish the platter with radish roses and crisp water cress, and no hot weather jaded appetite will fail to respond to this cool, crisp looking dish.

Creamed ham as ham a la King is another attractive way to prepare left over ham. The ham may be ground and set away in the ice box. The white sauce too may be made in the cool of the morning and all this dish needs is a little last minute reheating.

The creamed ham may be served in pattie cases instead of on toast. Here is a recipe for creamed ham that is different.

Creamed Ham in Bread Cases

1 1-2 cups diced cold cooked ham, 1 tablespoon minced pimento, 1 loaf stale bread, 1 1-2 cups thin white sauce, 1 tablespoon chopped olives, salt and pepper.

Cut the loaf of bread in six pieces trim off crust, cut in squares and hollow out the center. Toast the bread cases or brown in deep fat. Add ham and seasonings to cream sauce and heat. Fill bread cases with the ham mixture, garnish with parsley and serve at once.

Jellied Ham

1 pound cold cooked ham diced, 1 can pimentos, cut fine, 3 tablespoons minced pickles, 1 pint hot stock, 1 tablespoon gelatine, 1 bay leaf, 1 slice onion and 2 cloves.

Soak gelatin in cold water and dissolve in the hot stock. Mix remaining ingredients and turn into a mold, slightly buttered. Pour gelatine stock over all. The sides of the mold may be lined with slices of hard-cooked egg if desired. Set away to chill. When ready to serve, unmold and serve on a platter garnished with parsley and lemon slices.

Luncheon Bacon

Toast the required number of slices of bread on one side. Lay two thin slices of bacon on the untoasted side of each piece of toast. Sprinkle with cheese and cook in a hot oven.

Spore Stage of Root Rot Fungus Found At Temple Station

Spores of the fungus causing cotton root rot have just been discovered on the Experiment Station at Temple, according to Mr. B. F. Dana, Plant Pathologist, with headquarters there.

This fungus has for some years been known to have a spore or seed stage, but the spores have been observed only rarely in Texas. Some years ago the spores of this fungus were found at Paris, Texas and recently in the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas, and at Balmorhea in the Pecos Valley. During the present season, spores were found in the garden of Dr. O. W. Silvey on the Campus of the A. & M. College and they are now supplying abundant experimental material in the studies of root rot being made under the direction of Dr. J. J. Taubenhaus, Chief Pathologist of the Experiment Station. The spores reported from the Temple Station are the first that have been reported from the Central Texas blackland region where the cotton root rot is very prevalent.

Doctor Taubenhaus states that he and his aides are much interested in the behavior of these spores as it is thought they contribute to the spread of the root rot disease, though as yet, no definite proof has been found that they do spread disease. Recently Dr. Taubenhaus succeeded in germinating some of these spores and is endeavoring to artificially infect plants from fungus produced in this manner. This would explain the presence of root rot in new areas that are detached from other infested areas. He has already established that the disease is spread by contact of the roots of infested plants with roots of other susceptible plants. This is the only method of spread thus far observed and cultural practices have been worked out that check the disease to some degree. If the spread occurs also through a snow seems likely, then an entirely new character of attack must be made to control the disease. More must be learned of how and when the fungus arrives at the spore stage and to know certainly whether, how and when, the spores, which could easily be scattered by the wind, develop new infestations. A large force of specialists are at work on the problem by virtue of recent appropriations for the purpose and each step of the work is being carefully recorded so that every new fact which may be observed concerning the behavior of this fungus will be usable in devising successful combat measures against a disease that is causing cotton farmers very severe losses.

Mother! It's Cruel to "Physic"
Your Child

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purgative" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even if the child is chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it. Buy a large 6-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

PREACHER BECOMING USED TO PRISON; MAY GET LIBRARY JOB THERE

Huntsville, July 16.—According to Rev. C. B. Garrett, who recently resigned as chaplain of the Texas state penitentiary, Rev. A. A. Davis, Baptist preacher from Georgetown, "is getting used to penitentiary life and ways."

Davis was convicted of perjury and given two years. He was among the group that Governor Dan Moody prosecuted when he was district attorney of Williamson county for flogging R. W. Burleson. Davis said:

"I thought I was doing the right thing when I was upholding the Ku Klux Klan and what I said I thought was right. But I can see now where the Ku Klux Klan was my downfall."

"Since entering the penitentiary," said Rev. Mr. Garrett, "Davis has been a nurse in the prison hospital, and is capable and efficient in his position. He has been sick for about a week but is now well and I recommended to Colonel Walker Sayle to send him to the Eastham state farm to attend to the library on the farm."

Chaplain W. E. Miller, who succeeds Rev. Mr. Garrett, stated:

"Davis will fill the bill as a librarian and I will recommend his transfer."

Dummy Employees Paid Out Of Road Fund, Pollard Said

Austin, July 18.—Alleged "dummy employees" carried on the payrolls of the State Highway Department last year ranged from two in February to 20 in December and were paid at least $16,385 in state funds, Attorney General Claude Pollard declared late Monday after the third and last defendant in 11 indictments charging forgery and theft had been released under $2,500 bond.

L. J. Nachtrab, former highway division engineer, made bond of $500 each on five indictments charging forgery to the extent of $674 in five alleged transactions involving use of the name "Albert Sands" on warrants.

S. C. Tompkins, former chief clerk under Nachtrab, was indicted with him by the recent special Travis county grand jury on two charges of theft and one of forgery, and H. Joschke, alleged to have been a "dummy" on the payroll, was indicted on three charges of theft.

Nachtrab had been at large until he came in and voluntarily gave up, declaring he did so as soon as he heard of the indictments.

Investigations were conducted at Attorney General Pollard's direction by his legal investigator, R. V. Nichols, who worked with the grand jury.

The Attorney General said investigations will continue indefinitely. Assistant Attorney General Galloway Calhoun and Miss Preble Neal, stenographer, were before the Travis county grand jury which reconvened today.

Mr. Nichols' investigations disclose, "that there have been carried on the payroll of the Highway Department during the period beginning in February 1926, and ending January 1927, dummy employees in numbers ranging from two in February, 1926 to the peak in number in December 1926, of 20, and that the amounts so appropriated by reason of such dummies ranging from $139.50 in February to the maximum amount of $2,146.66 at a later time, and that the aggregate amount which the records disclose so far as the investigation has proceeded is $16,385.27."

The investigations have covered a period of six weeks. State Treasurer W. Gregory Hatcher has been referring "suspicious" warrants to the Attorney General's Department, and news of the alleged transactions leaked out Saturday, when Hatcher furnished the latter with a supplemental list of such warrants.

JOE BAILEY SCORES PROPOSED LAW CHANGES

San Antonio, July 18.—Trivial amendments to the state constitution will destroy reverence for organic law, former Senator Joseph W. Bailey declared here Monday in a statement in which he opposed all four of the proposed amendments to be voted on August 1.

Terming the salary amendment as "possibly worse" than the others, Bailey suggested that though it was easy to say that the governor of Texas should have $10,000 a year, "it is worth inquiry whether our governors have been able to earn $10,000 a year either before or after their terms. Certainly a man ought not to be paid more for public service than he can make in private life. No greater misfortune could befall a free republic than to have its great offices sought for the sake of the salary attached to them."

Bailey predicted that not ten per cent of the people of the state would vote for the amendment to allow the legislature to fix all salaries outside of those of a few of the chief officials of the state.

The judiciary amendment he termed "utterly indefensible." Senator Bailey's objections were based on the grounds that the need is for better and not for more judges, that the amendment would allow the governor to appoint two-thirds of the supreme court and that the amendment would allow the creation of a class of itinerant justices.
